

Yotes Baseball

Andrew Baggett

What are your plans for next year:

"To study construction management, possibly at Colorado Mesa or Montana."

What is your greatest Monarch baseball memory?

"The trip to Arizona this year. It was cool to see the fields and competition in Arizona, and I had a really good time hanging out with the team."

What are your goals for the remainder of the '26 season?

"To work as hard as I can in order to compete and be a good teammate. I want to end the season knowing that I did the best that I could and left nothing on the table."

What is the best part about playing for Monarch?

"The community. It's a ton of fun to compete with this group and be around them on and off the field."

What advice would you give to the underclassmen?

"Work hard, but have fun. When you worry about results too much, you start to lose sight of the fun of the game and the reason that you play."

The first Senior Spotlights of the 2026 season are here and it only felt right to include both Baggett brothers at the same time. They're a dynamite duo who bring a fantastic energy to the team every day. Getting to know these two over the past four years has been a lot of fun for all of the coaches and players. While they're nearly identical in appearance, they're each their own unique personality around the baseball field.

What the coaches have to say:

"These guys are hardworking, great teammates. They'll do anything for the team and are squeezing every last drop out of it. Always a pleasure to be on the field with them." – Coach White

"They show up everyday ready to work. Both Andrew and Oliver are willing to anything they can to help the team." – Coach Webb

"I have only ever had a positive interaction with both of them. From every winter workout to every day at the field, they're the most respectful guys and really make it a lot of fun to be around them." – Coach Atkin

"I am going to miss seeing these guys every day on the field. They are awesome people and really do make the practices and games a lot more fun with the attitudes they bring day in and day out. It's been nothing but positive with them and I can't wait to see what they're doing in the future because it's going to be nothing but successful."

– Coach T

Oliver Baggett

What are your plans for next year:

"I will go to CMU Tech for their electric line worker program."

What is your greatest Monarch baseball memory?

"Traveling with the team and playing in Arizona."

What are your goals for the remainder of the '26 season?

"Walk less than two batters for every six innings pitched, and end the season with a batting average above .300"

What is the best part about playing for Monarch?

"The best part for me is being able to hangout with the guys on the team and forming good bonds with them. I also like how we hold each other accountable and push one another to be better every day."

What advice would you give to the underclassmen?

"Have fun with the sport while you can, but also make sure you're putting in the work, hitting the weight room, and training outside of practice. Also, never be content with where you are and keep pushing yourself to be better."

Mason Dehne

"We've really been pushing Mason hard the last couple weeks and he hasn't backed down from the challenge. He's risen up and has been putting in a great effort in every practice and making the most of his opportunities during the games."

JV #MoHiGuy POTW
Deklyn Schnitger

"Deklyn leads the way with his actions. He's handling the pitchers in game while also thriving at the plate. He's always looking for ways to improve."

Freshman #MoHiGuy POTW
Noah Kozlowski

"Noah had a great week at the plate (5 for 10) that was punctuated by a grand slam vs. Broomfield. He also contributed with a strong start on the mound against Frederick, pitching 3 1/3 innings allowing only 1 run while getting 4 strike outs. He's also been an anchor defensively in center field all season and took first place in the team race-off to determine the fastest player."

Dude of the week
Noah Kozlowski

Noah Kozlowski did it all last week. On the mound he tossed 3.1 innings on 66 total pitches, surrendering one hit to four strikeouts. Opposing hitters had a batting average of .100 against him. At the plate he went 5x10 with a double and a grand slam, four RBI, three runs scored, and an OPS of 1.400.

Class of 2018 alumni Andrew Morris made his Major League debut with the Minnesota Twins on Sunday. He tossed 3 innings out of the bullpen against the Toronto Blue Jays. In his debut he scattered 6 hits and picked up two strikeouts. He is the third alumni to play professionally and the first to make it to the Big Leagues.
